Officers Receive Award

Chief Probation Officer Marlon Yarber and
Supervising Probation Officer Jacqueline Valerio

This month, Supervising Probation Officers, Jacob Cullers, Christa Flewellyn and Jacqueline Valerio received an award for participating in the 2022 Organizational Culture Change Project. The goal of this project was to develop a plan for improving the culture of Sacramento County to a level that is more productive, positive and encourages employees to care more about each other. All county personnel were encouraged to participate in a survey and more than 1,100 county workers responded. From the survey a long list of values were produced. Our Supervising Probation Officers helped narrow down the list and created behaviors under each value. PRIDE was the acronym developed by the team with the core values of Principled, Respect, Innovation, Diversity and inclusion and Excellence. Chief Probation Officer Marlon Yarber accepted the awards on behalf of Supervising Probation Officers Flewellyn and Cullers who were unable to attend the event in person.

CLIENT SUCCESS

ADRC North Client Graduation

On February 28th, family, friends and staff celebrated the graduation of five clients from our Adult Day Reporting Center (ADRC) North.

Supporting Positive Change is the main focus of ADRC as it offers various pro-social activities and programs. ADRC programs include, but are not limited to, educational programming, connection to housing, vocational assistance and family support services.

Forklift Certifications for LCA Clients

Leaders in Community Alternatives (LCA) partnered with Toyota Material Handling Northern California to provide forklift certification to our clients in the Adult Day Reporting Centers (ADRC) as well as the Accountability Collaborations and Treatment (ACT) program. This program is designed for our clients to achieve employment with their acquired skills so they can obtain higher wages.

Keeping Our Community Safe

February 7, 2023

3700 Block of Bigler Way, Sacramento

During a compliance check of an individual on formal searchable probation, officers noticed several safes as well as pistol cases in various rooms of the residence located in plain sight. Subsequently, a search warrant was obtained for the entire residence. During the search, officers recovered multiple unsecured firearms and various rounds of ammunition in the rooms of other individuals. One individual was arrested for multiple firearms related charges.

Items Seized:

- .40 caliber Glock 23
- Winchester lever action rifle
- 9mm Glock 19
- .357 revolver
- AR upper receiver
- .12 gauge flare gun
- Various rounds of live ammunition
- Shotgun belt containing 15 rounds of ammunition

DISTRICT 3

February 1, 2023

1600 Block of Vernon Street, Roseville

Officers with the Investigations and Supervision Unit (ISU) of the Adult Field Division received a Proposition 63 Referral regarding an adult individual on formal searchable probation. During a scheduled office visit, officers searched the vehicle and located approximately 9 grams of psilocybin mushrooms. Subsequently, a probation search of his residence was conducted and officers seized miscellaneous firearm parts, 10 large capacity magazines, 1 high capacity extended magazine, live ammunition, 3 AR-15 lower receivers and 25 grams of psilocybin mushrooms. The individual was booked on various firearms charges as well as Possession of a Controlled Substance.

Items Seized:

- Approximately 805 rounds of various caliber live ammunition
- (3) AR-15 lower receivers
- (10) AR-15 magazines
- High capacity extended magazine
- Miscellaneous firearms parts
- 35 grams of psilocybin mushrooms

On February 22nd, 2023 the Youth Detention Facility held its 10th Annual Career and Resource Fair . Both the Sacramento County Office of Education \(SCOE\) and the Sacramento County Probation Department partnered to provide justice-involved youth the opportunity to connect with 17 local area vendors. Youth were encouraged to focus on their future by pursuing a potential passion through participation in apprenticeship programs, community college and involvement in community outreach programs.

CELEBRATE SUCCESS

Four VOYA youth received their diplomas in a graduation ceremony held in front of their family, peers, school and probation staff. The ceremony was followed by a family brunch.

Community Collaborations

Community Collaborations and Projects

Probation would like to thank the The Assistance League of Sacramento \(ALS\) for their generous donation of clothing, blankets, and hygiene items to the probation clothing closet which helps serve our clients in need, especially during these historically cold days. ALS a non-profit organization which strives to transform the lives of children and adults through volunteer work with various community programs. We always appreciate our partnerships with community-based organizations!
