Experience

12. Relationship or personal connection for this population (if none, write none): *

My brother found himself in the juvenile system. We adopted him when he was an infant. As he matured, my parents struggled in raising him with what they described as a lack of help from foster and county systems. He struggled in social settings and eventually found himself tangled in the juvenile system. This was in the 1990's so you can imagine the ...lack of perspective that was infused into youth criminal systems then. Unfortunately he now is in prison. Fortunately upon his release several years from now, he desires to use his testimony to help other youth. My desire is to bring another perspective in hopes that children like my brother can get the guidance they need sooner than later.
